Aronin the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of ed Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures 'athousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, reputring damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarplaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed Tak, sickly, suffering creaures, to strong, healthy, and uppy men and women; and wallds cannot reasonably hesliate to give it a trial. See that each bottle has PERU-VIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

dred Shades, mixed for ready use. Every Man can Paint his own House.

This is the only chemical paint manufactured from pure white lead, sinc, and linseed oil. Its patent dates prior to any in America.

It is one-half cheaper, and will last three times longer than Paint mixed in the ordinary way, its advantages being that it is ready for use. It is applied with less labor.

It shows a beautiful enamel surface. It does not chalk or peel off.

It does not run from nall-holes or corners. It is fire-proof and water proof.

It covers old work as well as new.

It is the best paint for iron buildings.

It is a perfect wood preservative, Rain before it dries does not wash it off.

It is durable, and retains its enamel and freshness.

Wine a Mocker.

An address before the Temperance Alliance of Mexico, by Rev. Lewis Kellogg, Some perhaps suppose that the discusion of temperance is comparatively a new thing, but I propose this evening to confine myself to a temperance motto that was uttered and recorded thirty centuries ago, by a man with whose name the world is still familiar, and who was remarkable for condensing the results of close and accurate observation into terse and pithy sentences. One of these contains these four short words, "Wine is a mocker," and he adds, "He that is deceived thereby is not wise." It is the deceit, the treachery, the fraud of wine that makes it a mocker. It mocks the expectations its own promises have rais-

When this was uttered, wine stood as the generic representative of all intoxicating drinks,-much as "rum" does with us. Of course, I shall give the term, mocker, the same breadth of application. It belongs by inalienable birth-right to all intoxicating drinks. These drinks and all their natural surroundings and appendages are a fraud. Their natural, perpetual influence and result is to deceive and mock. Many are deceived as to the origin of alcohol. They imagine it exists in the fruit and the grain, and some class it even among the good creatures of God that are not to be refused, but the fact is, the entire living vegetable kingdom disowns its fraternity. It is said that not a drop of alcohol can be extracted from any healthy plant or fruit and certainly, if we except the tissues and veins of the tip-pler, it exists in no animal matter. It is never formed in any substance till after death. It is the commencement of decomposition and putrefaction. Wherever it exists in a natural state, it is a symptom of decay and dissolution.

In this state, diffused in combination with the first stages of decaying vege-table matter, was alcohol alone found for nearly 5,000 years. Then an Arab, subjecting it to fiery tortures, forced it from its natural affinities and produced that distilled essence of destruction, pure ality—that man through its aid would be pifying, and I think we are all studyle for the property of the property at defiance. To show my authority for these statements, allow me to quote from Theoricus, no mean authority in his day. He says, "It sloweth age, it strengtheneth youth, it helpeth digestion, it cutteth phlegm, it abandoneth melancholy, it relisheth the heart, it lighteneth the mind, it quickeneth the spirits, it cureth the hydropsie. It healeth the stranguerie. it pounceth the stone, it expelleth the gravel, it puffeth away ventositie, it keepeth and preserveth the head from whirling, the eyes from dazzling, the tongue from lisping, the mouth from snaffling, the teeth from chattering, and the throat from rattling. It keepeth the weason from stiffling, the stomach from wambling and the heart from swelling. It keepeth the hands from shivering, the sinews from shrinking, the veins from crumbling, the bones from aching and the marrow from soaking." Was ever a grosser fraud, a more perfect mockery than this claim? All observation teaches that this same alcohol, to which was attributed such wonderful sanative power, cannot touch a single living fibre or tissue, muscle or nerve, membrane or bloodvessel, without irritation and positive injury. There are few diseases to which flesh is heir that are not aggrivated by the presence of alcohol in the system, and it is itself the parent of a frightful progeny of fatal maladies, Those organs whose ousiness it is to gather up nourishment from what is swallowed, and deposit it where it is needed throughout the system, will not touch alcohol; they find nothing in it they can appropriate.-Those organs that labor as scavengers for the system, seize hold of it and tug and toil to throw it out; hence the strong fumes of the breath, and the more disgusting odor from the pores of a system where alcohol has been imbibed. Every excretion is strongly taxed to expel alcohol from the system, but the organs are compelled to labor in a poisoned atmosohere, and taxed beyond their powers. They at length give out and leave the poison to produce its proper effect. No nostrum or panacea, of this sometimes called the golden age of humbugs, ever claimed half the power both to prevent and cure disease, or found a tithe of the number ready to swallow the deception. and yet 75 physicians of Boston testify "Men in health are never benefitted by the use of it is a frequent cause of disease and death, and often renders such liseases as arise from other causes more difficult to cure, and more fatal in their termination." 45 physicians of Cincinnati, state: "Ardent spirits is not only unnecessary, but absolutely injurious in a healthful state of the system. It proproduces many, and aggrivates most of is liable. It is equally poisonous with arsenic, operating sometimes more slowly, but with equal certainty." That is natural Vitality and Color. A dressing which is at once agreeable, grass and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimuof fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the forma-tion of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Hair Vigor For restoring to Gray Hair its

Dr. J. Walker's California Vin egar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BIT-TERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINKGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. Sup. Wells, of Granby, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that obedience to the law is the duty of good citizens, still, owing to the unfavorable resolutions adopted by other counties, the application of a higher ratio in the assessment of property in this county, to give a scale of greater uniformity, is untimely, and we fail to understand how, in making any material change in the mode of assessment, we would remove any of the evils complained of. Sup. Wells addressed the meeting at considerable length, in support of his resolution

Sup. Miles offered the following as a substitute for Sup. Wells' resolution : Resolved, That we advise the Assessors of this county to assess all the property in this county this year according to law, in accordance with the recomm tion of the State Assessors.

The Chairman suggested that in towns where the assessment was already completed it would make additional labor

No other Bitters in the universe can equal them. I lack space for detailing the availability of these Bitters, but will briefly state its general effects upon the human system, as follows:

It absolutely Purifies the Blood. It speedly corrects all morbid changes in the Blood. It equalizes the circulation of the Blood. It regulates the supply and quality of the Blood. It prepares the Blood to furnish a proper support to all the vital properties. It enriches the constituents of the Blood upon which the vital energy of the system is dependent. It infuses the proper degree of animal heat in the system. It purges from the system the morbid humors which retard its natural functions. It imparts vitality and elasticity to every organ of the Body. It corrects all derangements, howevertrivial, which are the first origin of Disease. It promotes the operations of the digestive organs. It improves the appetite and removes all disagreeable feeling after eating. It perfects digestion, rendering it natural and easy. It acts as a mild and efficatious stomachic. It elevates the standard of all the vital forces. It strengthens the nervous fibres and diffuses a calm throughout the specific promotes buoyancy of spirit and feeling. It promotes buoyancy of spirit and feeling. It banishes those clogs upon pleasure which produce gloom. It drives away those distressing symptoms which robus of happiness. It revives the physical energies by infusing new life and power into the system. It fortifies the system against the dangers of malaria, fluctuations of the temperature, changes in the climate, &c. In short, it prepares the system for the radical change to be wrought in its condition, and restores it to perfect health and natural vigor.

The Orator at the Clerc Memorial Dedi-

We regret exceedingly that Prof. H. W. Syle's health will not admit of his adding anything to the large amount of business that at present occupies him, as will be seen by his appended letter, declining on that account the honor of delivering the oration. Any one who has read his "Recorded Researches and Opinions of H. P. Peet, LL. D." (Annals, July and Oct. '73), will agree with us that as a writer he has great ability. A thorough master in analysis and research, both logicial and rhetorical, we believe that he could produce an oration that would astonish himself none the less than it would do justice to the life labor, and perpetuate the memory of "the apostle of the deaf-mutes of the New World," Laurent Clerc.

From present indications it looks as if the position would be offered to Mr. James Denison, of Washington, D. C., a young gentleman of fine culture. We sincerely hope he will accept it.

New York, May 26, 1874. MESSRS. EDITORS :- I am fully sensible of the compliment paid in your suggesting me for the orator at the Clere Memorial dedication, and beg you to accept my thanks. But I must unqualifiedly decline to allow my name to be used in this connection.

I have already named gentlemen much more competent to the task and much more deserving of the honor; and there are many others who knew Mr. Clerc far better than I, and can speak of him more fittingly. Moreover, my health will not permit my undertaking any more work than I have already on hand. Very truly yours,

HENRY WINTER SYLE. Minor Topics.

The law respecting the admission of deaf-mutes to the New York Institution, has, heretofore, made it obligatory for the parents of pupils to swear that they were indigent, and not able to pay the annual amount required for board and tuition. This was evidently an unjust law. For many a parent was and is unable, unaided, to keep his child at school for the time required to complete his education, and yet it would be far from the truth to call him indigent. Compared with the Common School law, the injustice was too evident. For the parent of the hearing child can send him to any of the common schools without question, even though he be rolling in wealth. But the parent of an unfortunate had to swear cation. It is too bad that such a law has been allowed to remain on our statute books so long: but thanks to the aid of two discerning and noble men, it is there no longer. The last legislature struck out the word "indigent" from the affidavit, which was what was asked of them by the officers of the institution, and they went farther and abolished the affidavit

I entered school—the Asyold. Tom Brown had just been through, but stayed two or three years longer, working in the shop. Of course he was anterior to me in date. Ask him to give what account he can of Mr. Clerc in the latter's younger years. I remember one of the girls, whose time was nearer out than mine, remarking that Mr. C. had grown older in the years since she entered. Absence of Mind.

Henry J. Finn, the actor-he of precious memory to Bostonians-had once an opportunity of showing how utterly absent-minded a perfectly sane person could be. On Pearl street (the Pearl street of thirty years ago) lived Mrs. L____, a widow of large wealth and unbounded benevolence. Her sympathies were strong, and swayed her entirely when once excited. Finn was one day in conversation with a brother of Mrs. seen in the distance approaching. Said

Tom., (the brother)-"There comes Betty, in a brown study, as usual. I declare, Harry, I wish you would give her a lesson in imposition. She is in just the mood for being fleeced."

"Thus invited Finn set his wits at work, and quickly conceived a bold project. Drawing up the collar of his coat, and buttoning it awry, and pulling his hair over his brow, and slouching his hat, he stood in the lady's way, and as she came up held out his hand imploringly. REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

NEW YORK, May 7, 1874. The Executive Committee have great leasure in reporting another three months

As the completion of our undertaking fast approaches many previously inactive, possibly from doubts of our ultimate success, now effectually dissipated, have been stirred up to take part before it be too late. While the older associations report inreased collections, large amounts have een received from two new sources. In Indiana, a committee at the Instiution has raised over one hundred dolars in about a month, and promptly forwarded it to the Treasurer of the Union. In St. Louis and neighborhood an association has been organized, which reports nearly fifty dollars paid in, and an equal nount promised, as the result of only two weeks' work.

From New England we have hopes of a large increase, arising from sales of a photograph of Mr. Clerc, enlarged from one acknowledged to be the best likeness taken in his later years.

In the execution of the monument, the most difficult and delicate part has been satisfactorily accomplished. The model of the bust has been completed, and, after long and close examination by a large number of the persons most intimate with Mr. Clerc-among them Mrs. Clerc herself, Rev. Dr. Turner, Prof. Bartlett and the other instructors at the Asylum, and, in behalf of the Executive Committee, the Secretary of the Union-it has been accepted. It is universally ackowledged to be the best likeness of Mr. Clerc yet produced—representing him as most of us remember him—not indeed in his early years, for it must be remembered he was full thirty years of age, when he came to America—but also not as bowed down with the weight of years, but rather as bearing them as a crown of honor. Great credit is due to the sculptor, Mr. Carl Conrads, of Hartford for the success he has achieved.

The Committee, at their meeting last December, received assurances from the President of the Asylum, Hon. Calvin Day, that the desired site would be cheer-fully granted, and the monument accepted in the same manner as the Gallaudet monument. Formal application has been made to the Board of Directors, to be presented at their approaching annual meeting. Very few of the Managers have re ponded to the request made by the Executive Committee in their last report Taking silence for assent the Committee noon, and played eight innings with the Hudsons. We wish they would play tion. But, as the call for the funds of the associations to be sent in can only be constitutionally made by a vote of the Board, the Committee request the Managers to send in their votes immediately. The Committee also desire to know the preference of the Managers as to the orator.

Some discussion took place in the pa pers circulating among the deaf and dumb regarding the action of the Committee in making a contract for the monument, and in subsequently slightly altering it. The reason for this course, was the necessity for prompt action, if the monument was to be completed rivers that flow into Lake Huron, and the 23d ult., relates the following: "A within the year.
